Class History

Today all sixteen members of the Senior Class have gathered to watch a television program. Science has made such giant strides in the past few years that it is now possible to set your television on the past, the present, or the future. Tonight we shall dial in on the past four years and see ourselves as freshmen.

As the picture begins, we are entering Mr. Bunn's classroom for the first time. Everything is very confusing as all twenty of us try to adjust ourselves to high school life. We don't have much class business in our freshman year, but, nevertheless, we elect officers: Keith Mayo, President; Faye Patterson, Vice-president; Faye Worrell, Secretary and Treasurer.

As the commercial ends, it is followed by the story of our sophomore year, 1955-1956. We seem to have settled down a bit as sophomores. After Mrs. Payne calls the roll, we are grieved to notice the absence of Carolyn Coley, Virginia Sykes, and Faye Patterson. We are proud to add Mary Frances Wallace, Clarence Haire, and Faye Hinton to our ranks. We are quite sophistocated and very much interested in letting W.H.S. know that we are capable of transacting weighty matters of vast interest to us and, we hope, to others. We elect Jimmy Barnhill president; Windy Andersor vice-president; Jonnie Alford treasurer; and Faye Worrell secretary. We start to work on money-making projects. The project we enjoy most is the Second Annual Spring Festival.

Our junior year, 1956-1957, brings back memories some pleasant, some unpleasant, but nevertheless memories. We are especially fond of Mrs. Ann Truitt because we were fortunate enough to have the honor of being her first class in Whitakers High School. Under her capable guidance, we begin our busy Junior year. As the roll is called, we find that we have lost Clarence Haire, Bobby Jones, and Billy Pridgen and gained Donnie Pittman, Dan Lawrence, and Jean Blackmon. We spend the entire year making money for the Junior-Senior banquet which we hold at Ricks Hotel Ballroom. We enjoy making terraces, picket fences, and a wishing pond for the Junior-Senior banquet. I see two Juniors paddling a boat early one morning before school. What on earth could they be doing? Ah! yes, they are getting water lilies for the banquet wishing pond. As the time comes around for the annual Junior play, we are proud to present a three act comedy, "Me and My Shadow". Our long and hard weeks of practice are well repaid when we see the large audience present for our performance.

With a sigh of regret, we turn off the television because we can remember without any assistance the fleeting days and events of our last year in high school. We realized that the expenses of our Senior year would be much more than those of our Junior year. So we lost no time in getting organized, electing our annual staff, and launching our advertising campaign. For class officers we elected Jonnie Alford president, Bill Weaver vice-president, Brenda Price treasurer, Faye Worrell secretary, and Gwen Adcox reporter. One of the busiest and most exciting days of our senior year was the day the pictures were made for our annual.

Athletics throughout the entire four years aroused much interest. Five of our boys were stalwarts of the baseball team; three, of the boys' basketball team.

We talked about our Senior play all year, but it was spring before we finally found time for it. We hope those who saw it enjoyed it as much as we did.

We enjoyed many parties during the year. We especially appreciated the supper given us by Mrs. Virginia Reid, a former teacher and the mother of one of our mascots.

We realize as we prepare to leave school and step into the world that we owe very much to the wise guidance we have received from the faculty. We are deeply indebted to Mr. Daniel Lane and Mr. M.C. Collins, who were our principals for our four years in high school, for their wise counsel and their personal interest in each of us.

We shall always love and cherish our Alma Mater, for here we have learned to get along with others in work and play. May we always remember our Class Motto! "Within ourselves our future lies."

Last Will And Testament

We, the class of 1958, in the town of Whitakers, the county of Nash, and the state of North Carolina, being in as good mental condition as usual, and in much better temper than usual, do hereby make this our last will and testament, rendering void and of no avail any former will or wills that may have been previously made by us during a period of temporary optimism.

In this manner we dispose of our possessions:

Item I. To our dear old school building itself, we leave this peaceful quiet caused by our absence and any apple cores, wads of gum, or crumpled notes we may have left.

Item II. To our principal, Mr. M. C. Collins, we give and bequeath a sense of relief that we are at last graduating.

Item III. To our teachers we leave our keen sense of humor and our kindest regards, without which we would have found school life painful indeed.

Item IV. We give and bequeath to the Junior Class our well-known nerve, which they will need next year, and all the examination questions we have been given during the past years.

Item V. To the Sophomore Class we leave our patience and ability to agree on all matters, also any notebooks, pencils, fountain pens, and unfinished lollypops.

Item VI. To the young and unsophisticated Freshmen, we leave a map of the school building, so they will not get lost and roam around in everybody's way looking for classrooms. We include with this map a book entitled How To Tell The Teachers.

Item VII. The smaller individual bequests are as follows:
Gwen Adcox leaves her friendly ways to Phyllis Bradley.
Jonnie Alford leaves his ability to say the wrong thing at the right time to Gayle Price.
Jimmy Barnhill leaves his ability to do the wrong thing at the right time to anyone who wants it.
Jean Clay leaves her quietness to Gladys Quincy.
Willis Cooke leaves his co-operative attitude to Milton Taylor.
Dot Jones leaves her "genuine" blond hair to Lynda Payne.
Evelyn Moore leaves her courteous ways to Gurney Aycock.
Linwood Nunnery leaves his ability to get into fights to Robert Jordan.
Bruce Parker leaves his aches and pains to anyone in Whitakers High School who feels too good.
Donnie Pittman, after taking careful inventory, found that he was fortunate in leaving the school at all and has nothing to leave anyone.
Brenda Price leaves her flirty ways to Elizabeth Marks.
Woody Tetterton leaves his love for girls to Ivan Moore.
Mary Wallace leaves her good studying habits to Keith Mayo.
Bill Weaver leaves his ability to sleep on class to Patsy Wallace.
Faye Worrell leaves her wedding bells to Anita Marks.

Besides the bequests, we leave our best wishes to any and all who may desire them.

Any property or personal possessions of this group that may remain in addition to the items specified are to be given to the School Board of Education to use as it sees fit.

Finally, we do hereby name and appoint as the sole executer of this our last will and testament, our class advisor, Mrs. W. P. Thompson.

In witness where of, this class of 1958, the testator, have set our hand and seal on this twentieth day of May in the year of 1958.
